A sad case of cruelty to animals occurred last Sunday night which received a just punishment later. John McCarty, employed by W. H. Welch & Co., together with a companion, drove a horse owned by Joseph Collins all Sunday night and Monday morning until the horse succumbed to fatigue and fell in the road. Both men were under the influence of liquor at the time, and, although the animal was not driven continuously, it was kept out all night. McCarty was arrested but the companion was not with him at the time, so escaped arrest. The former appeared before Judge Poor Monday afternoon and was given a term of four months in jail for cruelty to animals.

At London Theatres.

"London theatres are different in many ways from New York theatres," said a woman who has just got back home. "In the first place like the railways, many of them are built underground. A big funk dressed in the style of George IV. or a punctilious personage in a swallowtail points you out the stalls and you go down one flight of stairs. A maid in white cap and apron directs you down another at the landing of which another maid in another white cap and apron directs you further down still until you stand at a side entrance and the flare of the stage bursts upon you."

"Standing there at the side entrance a moment before the maid comes to seat you the appearance of the stalls strikes you as imposing. Everybody is in full dress. There are some very beautiful shoulders, but alas! there are also some that are not beautiful; but beautiful or not they are all bare."

"In my opinion the pit spoils the effect of the stalls. Our way of making the gallery seats the cheapest is the best. The jute position of exquisite toilets elaborate coiffures and bare shoulders with the common every day clothes of the poorer class is too violent. Imagine carpeted floors, white-aproned attendants, perfumes and flowers divided from you by a board wall four feet high, above which it reaches just to the eyes—seated in a hardwood chair, with your feet on a bare floor, you gaze in a melancholy way over into the promised land. Some tourists buy seats for the pit—the difference in price is considerable, two shillings and six pence for the pit, ten shillings and six pence for the stalls—but rather than sit there with the fence separating me from the swells I would stay at home forever."

The pit applauds strange and unexpected sentiments. In fact, you are never quite certain when it will applaud; neither, I imagine, are the actors. For instance, a large and unwieldy actress says in a loud voice, "Some people buy their gowns in Paris, but London is good enough for me!" whereat the pit comes down in a stupendous thunder of applause interspersed with cries of "Bravo! bravo! bravo!" An actress who has been a magnificent success a decade or so before appears upon the stage. She stands in the glare of the footlights, a wreck of her former self, and before her cracked voice can break upon the enraptured stillness the pit goes into convulsions, stands on its head, throws its hat in the air and shouts "Bravo! bravo! bravo!"

Some peculiar customs prevail in the stalls. One evening I saw three young men go out between the acts. They went out in a perfectly natural way, but it was their coming back that surprised me. They entered, at about three o'clock in the rear of the original seats, and deliberately climbed over the intervening backs of the chairs. I stared wide-eyed at the spectacle of those three young men, all in evening dress, with shining patent leathers and expansive shirt fronts, climbing the backs of chairs.

"The prevailing afternoon tea prevails also at the matinees. Between first piece, while the scenery is being shifted about for the one-act farce, the maids serve tea at six pence. It gives a home-like air to the theatre to see these neat and nimble maids going about with their tiny trays, waiting on the women, who gather in groups and chatter as they drink their tea for all the world as if they were at home in their own drawing rooms."

"Every possible effort is made for the comfort of the London theatre-goer; otherwise he complains. He must have his money's worth, or the manager suffers. In many cases the manager is deserving of sympathy. At a matinee at Her Majesty's theatre there was some one knocking on the outside wall. It did not annoy me; in fact, I hardly noticed it until some one nearby complained. 'If I go and answer,' he said, 'he got up and walked out with a determined stride. Several others in different parts of the theatre got up and walked out. The manager was besieged. The knocking continued. Finally Mr. Titterton came before the footlights. His countenance was perturbed. He apologized profusely for the annoyance caused by the knocking promised to do all in his power to have it stopped. He had it stopped—I wondered how much he paid those carpenters to stop their work for a couple of hours—and the play went serenely on."

"In one important particular the London manager is zealous to a degree for the welfare of his patrons. Rather than put them to the necessity of going outside in cold, stormy weather in cases of sudden and extreme thirst, he supplies their needs at close range. In a London theatre you not only find cloak rooms, umbrella repositories, billiard rooms and rooms where tea is brewed and thin slices of bread and butter are served upon a moment's notice, but you find full-fledged barrooms, glittering with cut glass and long-necked bottles filled to the brim with the ubiquitous Scotch whiskey, together with its inseparable companion, the inevitable sizzling soda water."

Tricks of the Tongue.

A fashionable congregation was once startled by hearing the reverend gentleman announce that they were about to sing "Hymn No. 257—'From Iceland's Greasy Mountains.'" After that they listened with equanimity when they were reminded that they should not covet their neighbor's house, nor his 'oss, nor his axe." Preaching before a "varsity congregation on the queen's diamond jubilee, he remarked impressively, "Now, my brethren, you have a very queer dean, indeed." As it was widely known that he had recently had a serious difference with the dean of his college, the slip was intensely enjoyed.

The same reverend gentleman once assured his hearers that they all knew what it was to have a "half-warmed fish" within them. A "half-formed wish" he meant. On one occasion he referred to "Ben the Baptist." Feeling dimly that there was something wrong he tried to correct matters: "No, no; I mean the Baptist Bon."

Another dear old college gentleman had occasion to reprimand an undergraduate who had wasted two consecutive terms in youthful follies. After lecturing the delinquent severely in his quietly high-pitched voice, the dean finished by saying: "I am sorry to have to speak so severely to you, but I am credibly informed that you have broken many rules of the college; you have been incorrigibly lazy, and to cap it all, you have deliberately tasted two worms."

"Are you fond of music, Mr. —?" "Yes," was the divine's answer, "but I don't know very much about it. I don't think I have a very good ear; in fact, the only two tunes I really know well are 'God Save the Weasel' and 'Pop Goes the Queen!'"

"What will you have?" was once asked of a nervous clergyman at a well spread luncheon table, as the time came for the second course. "Thank you," murmured the embarrassed cleric, with eyes fixed on a seductive looking strawberry cream in front of his hostess. "I think I will have a little of that pink stuff."

And that reminds one of another dinner tale. The stage was desert. Hostess: "What will you have, Mr. Jones?" There are nuts, oranges, figs." Mr. Jones, "Pigs, fleas!"

At a licensing session held in a certain west country town recently, the chairman dealing with the statutory limit for bona fide travelers and getting his expressions a little mixed, referred to it as being "three miles as the flow cries." A limb of the law who was engaged in the case ventured to correct his worship: "With a deferential smile, this exponent tried to amend his phrase: 'You know what I mean as the fly crows—or rather,' he added hastily, 'as the cry flows!'" No one was sufficiently rash to make a further attempt.

It would not be fair to mention the name of the modern Mrs. Malaprop, who recently made the faintest faux pas. The conversation turned on a forthcoming fancy dress ball, to which all the house party was going. She was asked what dress she proposed to wear. "I'm having a dress copied from an old French print. It's the period of the Revolution. The picture is one of Marat being murdered in his bath by Charlotte Bronte!" It would have been most impolite to correct her, and no one ever knew whether it was mere ignorance, confusion of ideas or absence of mind.—Chicago Herald.

"You are not very fond of surf bathing, are you?" asked her friend. "Not very," replied the girl in the bathing suit. "My affection for salt water is merely platonic."—Puck.

"Have you made up your mind what college to send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's settled."

"What one is it?"

"What one? Didn't three boat races and the baseball championship all go to one institution this year? What one? Say, you amuse me with your fool questions."

Copper Shares.

Safest Investment, Largest Dividends.

A portion of the full paid and non-assessable capital stock of the Boston & Texas Copper Company is offered for sale at Five Dollars per share (par $10 for Treasury purposes), and is recommended as a safe and highly promising investment.

The company controls twelve thousand acres of rich copper land in North Texas which is also valuable for farming and town site purposes. The tract is some 10 miles long and about three miles wide. It is equivalent in size to five hundred ordinary mining claims.

The property has been developed sufficiently to begin producing at once, large amounts of the richest copper ore (40 to 70 per cent.) taken out and marketed, and inexhaustible quantities of copper marl and clay running from 3 to 15 per cent. copper found. (Calumet and Hecla and other great dividend payers are working on 1 to 3 per cent. ore.)

The property is within 12 miles of a railroad and fuel and water are available. The ore and marl are on the surface and a few feet down, and can be mined and converted into copper cheaper than any other deposits in America. Copper will be produced on the ground and a plant of moderate cost will treat 300 to 500 tons of ore and material per day, and according to engineers' estimates earn $3,000 to $5,000 per day net, with copper at 15 cts per pound. It is now 18 cts. per pound.

The property has a historical reputation and a record in the State Geological Reports. It has been examined and reported upon by the highest engineering, geological and expert authorities, and its merit and value are established beyond all question. It is not an experiment, nor its value speculative, they are proven and demonstrated.

From Report of Prof. Wm. DeRue, former State Chemist of Texas.

"Such numerous outcrops of copper ore have been traced over the summit and sides of those hills that out of 12,000 acres of land which the company own, hardly a 160 acre tract should be found without ore upon the surface."

A cross-cut to the depth of 15 feet was made upon the Isbell lead, and ten hours' work resulted in the raising of 6,000 lbs. of rich copper ore, averaging about 60 per cent. of copper. (Worth $360, net.)

It is easily smelted and the strata in which it is found can also be more economically excavated than other in which copper ores occur."

From Report of Prof. W. F. Cummins, former Geologist of Texas.

"In order that I might see the condition of this lode after this amount of work had been done, I employed a few hands and cleaned out the tunnels when I found a lode of copper. This is the disulphate of copper and will yield as high as 70 per cent. of copper. I drove the tunnel twenty feet further into the hill, following the lode. When I had gone about twelve feet I struck another lode of copper eighteen inches east and six inches below the second lode. In three feet more we struck another lode below the second lode. Immediately below the lower sandstone is a stratum of cupiferous marl schists extending the entire width of the tunnel, say four feet, and is probably much wider. This marl will yield about 15 per cent. of copper."

From Report of Prof. Gustave Westman, Mining Engineer.

"I beg to express my entire satisfaction with and confidence in the report made by Prof. W. F. Cummins."

I only had to remove one foot of earth from the surface on the three spots already mentioned in order to find large deposits bedded into the clay. After washing, this clay was found to contain 15 per cent. of copper ore of same value as above. These ores could of course be taken out and made available at a relatively small expense.

FROM REPORT OF T. BURTON EVERETT, MINING ENGINEER AND EXPERT.

Hon. EMERY H. LOW, President, and others, Boston, Mass.: "Gentlemen:—There is abundant evidence of rich copper deposits, not only at the mines already opened, but at various other parts of the property, and it is my opinion that this will prove to be one of the exceptionally rich copper-bearing fields of the United States, will undoubtedly prove of great value on account of the cheapness with which they can be mined and reduced. The mines are accessible at every point; the cost of mining will be very small, as the ore is not in hard formation; and there is no deep work. I have examined the various reports made by others, and confirm them."

"As far as I have been able to investigate, and I have done so carefully, I am of the opinion it is one of the richest copper fields in the country."

Very respectfully yours,

T. BURTON EVERETT, M. E.

Mr. G. H. Savage, Mine Examiner of Butte, Montana, after gaining sample of ore from the property, says: "The ore is the richest in the country. If you have the field you can pay $1,000,000 dividends per year."

Major F. M. Spaulding, of Boston, and C. F. Crosby, Esq., of Lowell, Mass., who returned June 16th from an examination of the property on behalf of the Company's stockholders and intending investors, report that they found the property as represented and confirm the expert reports. They visited and examined the nine mines and explored the entire property.

The Company is thoroughly organized with substantial business men in the management. It has such extensive acreage of land, rich in copper, and so easily and cheaply mined and converted, that dividends can be earned and paid during the current year. Now is the time to make a safe and profitable investment, and those who take advantage of this opportunity to buy stock at the low price offered will reap the benefit.

Remit by P. O. Order, Registered Letter, Check or Express to Edward B. Robins, Treasurer, Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Price $5.00 per Share, Subject to advance.

BOSTON & TEXAS COPPER CO.

The cupiferous marl situated below the sandstone, containing 15 per cent. of copper, can be estimated worth at the place at least $10.00 per ton, net."

From Report of George F. Rendall, Mining Engineer.

"It is a self-evident fact deducible from every report that on this property large bodies of copper ore exists and that hundreds of tons have been shipped of high grade ore."

That a deposit of this nature can at a very small expense be made to yield handsome profits, from all existing reports, appears not only likely but certain."

From Report of Francis Arthur Reall, Superintendent.

"This property is all right and there is all the copper you want here. I think it is the best in Texas and it seems to have been selected as such for copper. It is near the top of a water shed and the hills crop out here. I think there is oil here because there is coal. Oil has been found at Corsicana. The property is adapted to general farming purposes which seems to be very profitable here and a town could be laid out on it and a railroad built to Dundee, 12 miles, to great advantage."

The Great Boom in Copper Shares.

Copper mining has proved the safest and most profitable industry in America, and the largest and most conservative capitalists in the world have recently become large investors in copper stocks.

This company can produce copper as cheaply as any in the world. It is capitalized the lowest of any in proportion to its acreage, and at the price of copper-bearing land in Michigan ($400 per acre) containing a much less per cent. of copper, has a large value in excess of its low capitalization ($2,500,000.)

Receipts for ore and assays by the leading chemists and assayers in the country are on file in the company's offices.

The officers and directors of the company are men of the highest standing and business capacity, and include:

Hon. Emery M. Low, manufacturer, mayor of Brockton, Mass., President.
George W. Russell, Esq., paper manufacturer, Boston, Vice-President.
Maj. F. M. Spaulding, 2d Vice-President.
Col. Edward B. Robins, Boston, Treasurer.
Col. James M. Wheaton, Boston, Secretary.
Hon. Jas. W. Bennett, Ex-President Erie Telephone Co.

Only a limited amount of the stock will be sold at the price of $5.00 per share and those wishing to secure shares should act at once. As stated the stock is full paid and non-assessable. As soon as this allotment is sold the price will be advanced.

Amount of land, quantity and quality of ore, cheapness of mining and treatment, nearness to transportation, favorable climate for continuous work the year around, the increasing demand and profit in producing copper considered, the Boston and Texas Copper Company possesses unequalled advantages and affords the best kind of an investment. It can easily earn 50 per cent. per year on the price at which the stock is here offered.

Stock may be ordered through your banker or broker, or direct as below.

ANCHER CITY, TEXAS, MAY 3, 1899.

"There is abundant evidence of rich copper deposits, not only at the mines already opened, but at various other parts of the property, and it is my opinion that this will prove to be one of the exceptionally rich copper-bearing fields of the United States, will undoubtedly prove of great value on account of the cheapness with which they can be mined and reduced. The mines are accessible at every point; the cost of mining will be very small, as the ore is not in hard formation; and there is no deep work. I have examined the various reports made by others, and confirm them."

Very respectfully yours,

T. BURTON EVERETT, M. E.

Mr. G. H. Savage, Mine Examiner of Butte, Montana, after gaining sample of ore from the property, says: "The ore is the richest in the country. If you have the field you can pay $1,000,000 dividends per year."

Major F. M. Spaulding, of Boston, and C. F. Crosby, Esq., of Lowell, Mass., who returned June 16th from an examination of the property on behalf of the Company's stockholders and intending investors, report that they found the property as represented and confirm the expert reports. They visited and examined the nine mines and explored the entire property.

The Company is thoroughly organized with substantial business men in the management. It has such extensive acreage of land, rich in copper, and so easily and cheaply mined and converted, that dividends can be earned and paid during the current year. Now is the time to make a safe and profitable investment, and those who take advantage of this opportunity to buy stock at the low price offered will reap the benefit.

Remit by P. O. Order, Registered Letter, Check or Express to Edward B. Robins, Treasurer, Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Price $5.00 per Share, Subject to advance.

New Gymnasium for Phillips
Academy.

It is already known to many of our readers that the subscriptions for the gymnasium have reached the sum required as a minimum expenditure. It is gratifying to know that Andover has come forward with customary generosity and is handsomely represented in the list of contributors. Most of the funds for the Hill institution have come from abroad, but Andover has contributed largely and constantly and loyally.

The first gymnasium was fitted up in the "Brick Academy" on Salem street, in 1866, at the instance and at the expense of the Theological Seminary, the Academy supplying site and building. It was used jointly by Academy and Seminary till the interior was destroyed by fire in 1896. In these thirty years the Academy repaid to the Seminary the original outlay for reconstruction and equipment.

In recent years the demand for physical training in schools has increased greatly, and side by side with gymnasium work, out-door training has come into equal prominence. Few persons except those who have given special attention to the subject are aware of the amount of money devoted to the physical development of students, and the far-reaching results to health, good morals and character.

Fortunately the founders of Phillips Academy and subsequent donors have provided a large domain. There is a dearth of level fields on the Hill, but suitable athletic grounds can be made by an expenditure of less money than the purchase of new and remote grounds would require. Hardly one of the great schools, colleges or universities is so favorably situated in the matter of lands. The history of many of them shows, and it is instructive for Andover, that they have been forced to repurchase, at tremendous cost lands they sold under a short-sighted policy for a small sum, and which they must acquire again to meet their own growth.

The following circular letter has been printed by the Academy, and we are permitted to reproduce it here for the perusal of our readers, as a matter of more than momentary or personal interest. It outlines a programme which it will be difficult to realize, but one worthy of thoughtful attention and of all possible encouragement and support.

"Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir: You will be glad to hear that the subscription of fifty thousand dollars for a new gymnasium for Phillips Academy and the Seminary under its care, is now completed, thereby binding the few conditional subscriptions.

The gifts vary from one dollar to twenty thousand dollars, the last sum being the offer of Mr. M. C. D. Borden, of the class of 1860, which was the beginning of the hopeful movement for a new gymnasium, and the corner-stone of its success.

A greater sum could be used wisely in building, equipping and maintaining a gymnasium large enough for four hundred students and good enough for Phillips Academy. Some further gifts are promised and others will be gratefully received.

The complete equipment on the physical side for a large school or college requires (1) a gymnasium for indoor exercise, (2) athletic fields for outdoor sports, (3) an infirmary for cases of illness, (4) officers for the requisite supervision, instruction, and medical direction. To this must be added (5) the cost of maintenance, a very considerable item which ought not to be a charge upon the other funds.

By the wisdom and foresight of the fathers ample grounds were secured at the outset for a very large development of the Andover institutions; the recent gifts provide for a gymnasium; the need of an infirmary is becoming more urgent with the increase of the number of students, and by reason of modern methods in the care of the sick; there is room for many gifts for salaries and maintenance. Each of these distinct but allied objects will appeal variously to the friends of the Academy and what the Academy stands for.

This circular note is partly for information, partly for congratulation, partly for a hearty expression of thanks to all who have taken part in soliciting and contributing for this good object, partly to invite further gifts.

Many of the subscriptions have been paid. This note is a call for the payment of the other subscriptions at the early convenience of the givers in order that the building may go forward.

Checks should be drawn to the favor of 'The Trustees of Phillips Academy.' The Treasurer, Mr. Alpheus H. Hardy, is abroad for the summer, and in his behalf, and for the Building Committee, I am

Very truly yours,

CECIL F. P. BANCROFT,

Principal."

Generous as Andover has always been to her famous school, she may further honor herself and the school by other and much needed contributions in this time of need.

Staging Knocked Down.

An accident occurred at the new house being built by A. C. Richardson on Maple Avenue, Tuesday morning, which did fair to be attended with serious results. While Charles W. Richardson was driving into the yard with a load of gravel for grading purposes, the wheel of his car struck a rock, joggling the pole into a joist which supported a staging twelve or thirteen feet high on which were at work Otis Hunt and John Thompson. The shock knocked out the piece of timber, allowing the staging to fall and precipitating the men to the ground. Hunt, being on the end supported by the timber, fell first, striking the ground behind the horses' heels and against the front wheel of the cart. He escaped with many bruises, a severe shaking-up and a fright, and went to work again Wednesday morning. Thompson was at the other end of the staging so that he slid along the boards, falling between the wheels while the board came down on him. He wrenched his back badly and injured his groin but to what extent is not yet known. No blame is attached to the driver for the accident as he was ordered to drive close to deposit the load.

Death.

Suddenly, at Oberlin, Ohio, Friday, July 21, Mrs. George Frederick Wright, wife of a former pastor of the Free Church.

Selectmen Decide Important Questions.

The selectmen met Wednesday afternoon and transacted some important business. They voted that the town build the new piece of state highway allowed Andover this year, under the supervision of Superintendent of Streets Lovejoy. It will be constructed this side of the piece on South Main street near the Reading line. Reading has an appropriation also for a piece on the other side, so that before many years it is hoped that the road between Andover and Reading can be traversed without danger to life and limb.

The selectmen also decided to grant the petition for a franchise by the Andover & Tewksbury Street R. R. company, although there has been some opposition against the road. The location of the tracks will be down Central School, Railroad, Central streets to Ballardvale and Tewksbury street to Tewksbury. By the franchise the company is given the liberty to locate such poles and appurtenances as may be necessary for the convenient operation of the cars, but all poles shall be located and placed to the acceptance of the board of selectmen. The gauge of the tracks shall be four feet, eight and one-half inches and the rails may be T or any pattern satisfactory to the board of selectmen.

The exact location of the tracks, especially where Central street passes under the Boston & Maine Railroad shall be determined by the board of selectmen before construction is commenced.

The locations hereby granted may be revoked by the Board after ten days' notice, if the said company shall not have some portion of its line built by the first day of December, 1900.

Mayor Firm

Mayor Eaton is determined not to be a majority candidate for a third term. His honor announced the other day through the columns of the Telegram that he had decided not to enter the contest again, but many of his friends were of the opinion that the mayor could be induced to change this decision.

There being some uncertainty about the effect of the strenuous efforts made to have the mayor withdraw his statement, in order to make his position perfectly clear he sent the following supplementary statement to the Telegram today:

"Learning that my letter of the 21st inst. is not understood alike by all, permit me, through your columns, to make my position unmistakably clear. A great many men of both political parties have urged me to withdraw my statement made to the public, and to run for a third term. Such requests are very gratifying to me and I most heartily thank my friends for their interest and confidence. I never desired the official position, and accepted it only after most urgent appeals from my fellow citizens. I would gladly do anything within my power to repay them for their support and kindness, but cannot under any circumstances, consent to be a candidate for a third term.

(Signed) JAMES H. EATON.

"Dey dasn't do it," said Meandering Mike fiercely.

"Dasn't do what?" inquired Plodding Pete.

"Sentence folks to go to work on de public roads. I imagine me belin' reminded at every step when I goes from place to place of de hours I spent workin'." It's cruel and unusual.—Washington Star.

MORNING HEADACHE.

A general feeling of malaise in the morning, accompanied by more or less headache, is well known to most of us. The expression "I've got a head on this morning" well defines the symptoms which are almost invariably due to retention in the system of a small amount of the uric acid and allied products formed during the hours of sleep and not properly excreted. It is the forerunner of a gouty or rheumatic attack. Tartaric acid is just the remedy for this condition. Two tablets in a goblet of water, noticed will clear the head, start up the action of the kidneys, and freshen one up wonderfully. The dose should be taken before breakfast.

BURGLARY IN MERRIMAC.

MERRIMAC, July 25.—Everett George's general goods store on School street was ransacked by burglars Sunday night, and a variety of articles taken. Just about a year ago the place with several others was rifled, and this last job, like the former one, looks more like the work of local thieves than of an organized gang or professionals. The burglar entered through a back window and before departing lunched liberally on bananas, candy, peanuts and soda. A few coppers were secured from the money drawer, and besides these the following articles are missing:

One Winchester rifle, single shot, centre fire; one Them's 32-calibre centre fire revolver; one Harrington & Richardson 32-calibre centre fire revolver; one buldog 32-calibre, five chamber revolver; 10 razors, as follows: one Acme, four Wade & Butcher, three Wollaston Bros. and two Schmeckelburg; one brier pipe in case, and several boxes of cartridges.

Chief of Police McInnis is ill at present, and Detective Hammond has charge of the case. The burglars left no clew by which they could be traced, and up to this noon no additional information on the matter had been secured.

Blake, Joseph H. Carpenter, John W. Rowe, Jr., Walter R. Thomas, William H. Thomas, Thomas W. Jacobs, Charles F. Jacobs, Arthur H. Butler, Alfred H. Brazier, Leonard G. Douglass, John E. Parker, William S. Smith, George A. Wilkins, Ernest A. Ehler, Lewis Elwell, Zeno Elwell, Albert G. Rich, John H. Morong, John J. Rogers, Walter H. Clark, Charles F. Doret, John W. Marston, Avery T. LYNN LASTERS UNION.

LYNN, July 26.—The Lynn Lasters union held a special meeting in Lasters hall last evening to take action on the vote taken at a former meeting whereby the union voted to make application to the Socialist Trade and Labor alliance for a charter.

There was a large attendance and all members not more than four weeks in arrears of dues were allowed 10 minutes' debate. It was voted to rescind the former action and the union still remains in the L. P. U.

Fred S. Carter, secretary of the union, resigned, that office on account of his health. A special meeting will be held early in August to elect his successor.

M. D. Wolfe of the South Christian church, Rabbi Seigal, the Rev. F. C. Gilbert of Salem, Barney Parkman, and Meyer Feinberg. The Hebrew society was organized 16 years ago, and now has a membership of 150. The synagogue is to seat 400 persons. It will be a two-story structure.

LYNN WOMAN STABBED.

LYNN, July 24.—Mrs. Belle Hogan was stabbed in an alley off Liberty street late Saturday night, and was taken to the hospital. The story sent out at the time of the assaults that Mrs. Hogan was dying was greatly exaggerated, and the hospital surgeons say that she had never been in danger as a result of the knife wound which, it is alleged, was inflicted by Patrick Joyce of Carnes street, who occupies a cell at the central police station on Sutton street.

It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50c. Sold by Arthur Bliss, druggist. Guaranteed.

NOT SO MUCH GOLD.

RUNNING SORE ON HIS ANKLE.

After Six Years of Intense Suffering, Promptly Cured

By S. S. S. entire circulation is in a depraved condition. They are a severe drain upon the system, and are constantly sapping away the vitality. In every case the poison must be eliminated from the blood, and no amount of external treatment can have any effect. There is no uncertainty about the merits of S. S. S.; every claim made for it is backed up strongly by convincing testimony of those who have been cured by it and know of its virtues by experience.

Mr. L. J. Clark, of Orange Courthouse, Va., writes:

"For six years I had an obstinate, running ulcer on my ankle, which at times caused me intense suffering. I was so disabled for a long while that I was wholly unfit for business. One of the best doctors treated me constantly, but did me no good. I then tried various blood remedies, without the least benefit. S. S. S. was so highly recommended that I concluded to try it, and the effect was wonderful. It seemed to get right at the seat of the disease and force the poison out, and I was soon completely cured." Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—drives out every trace of impurity in the blood, and in this way cures permanently the most obstinate, deep-seated sore or ulcer. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains not a particle of potash, mercury, or other mineral. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Cancer, Catarrh, Eczema, Rheumatism, Sores, Ulcers, Boils, or any other blood trouble. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place.

A legal document was called to the attention of the church Friday declaring a lien upon the property and ordering that the representatives appear before John W. Remember the postponed Grange lawn party at West Parish, Tuesday evening.

Youthful apple thieves would do well to beware of the consequences of taking other people's property.

Milo H. Gould and a party of four others succeeded in catching a wild beaver, which Mr. Gould had recently purchased, after an exciting chase through the woods between Andover and North Reading, Tuesday. The animal, a ditch cow which had been running free in the woods for about four months, resisted capture and made free with her heels, kicking some of the captors severely before being subdued. The Gould brothers have captured eight wild cattle since last December.

Thieves broke into the carpenter shop of Samuel Thomas on Porter street last Monday night and broke open his tool chest. Entrance was gained by breaking two lights of glass, one on either side of the window. They were then able to extract the nails which fastened the lower sash. Apparently the thieves were frightened away as they took nothing whatever. The window was left open so that the break was soon noticed by the first arrival at the shop in the morning. The police were notified of the break and are at work on the case.

Millions of the... Alaska Gold

COMING OUT THIS SUMMER.

BREAKING ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS.

Alaska has become one of the greatest gold producing countries in the world, and capital invested in sound mining enterprises, operating in those fields, will return greater profits and in less time than any other mining section yet explored.

The Klondike and Boston Gold Mining and Mfg. Co.

Was one of the first companies incorporated to mine on a large scale the enormous placers in Alaska, and to date more than 1200 acres of choice placer ground in Alaska, equal to has been secured Two Rich Gold Districts more than 60 claims, a large number of which are in operation, 36 men having been sent from Boston under special contracts to work these mines. Monthly shipments of gold from the Company's properties have been promised, beginning with July, and the Company is expected to begin declaring substantial dividends by midsummer.

Recent Letters of a Most Encouraging Nature are received from the Company's men in Alaska, of which these are extracts:

MR. GEO. M. REED, (of Waltham, Mass.) the Co's Mining Manager, writes: "Sinking shafts on 6 different claims. Expect to strike gold soon. Big strikes all around us."

CAPT. W. O. CUTLER, (of New Bedford, Mass.), writes: "Grand rush to the head waters of Big Mynook. Have located 6 of the choicest claims there. Whole creek now staked and prospects showing up wonderful."

WM. H. THORNE (of Winchester, Mass.), writes: "Have found gold in abundance. Have staked 3 claims, 1 mile long, 80 rods wide. Dirt pans high as $1.67."

G. F. BUTLER, (of Winchester, Mass.), writes his wife as follows: "We expect to do a big summer's work and take out lots of gold. Our claims are very rich; believe them to be worth half a million at the very least. My advice to you is to invest in more of the stock. Shares now selling for $1.00 will in all probability be up to $12.00 before the close of 1899."

Capt. O. G. HERNING (of Naugatuck, Ct.), writes: "I shall get to staking on the Homestead claim as early as possible. Shall work two shifts, keeping the gravel moving day and night. Will make first shipment of gold from the Homestead in July, and follow it up every month until the season closes."

$1 Per Share A limited amount of Treasury Stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale, in blocks to suit each investor. No safer or more profitable investment has been offered on the market for years. Illustrated prospectus with full particulars and subscription blank mailed upon application.
